PRACTICAL INFORMATION

How to reach Termini Railway Station

- By train, when arriving from the Leonardo da Vinci Airport: Inside the Airport Terminal you will find the local train that takes you directly to Termini Railway station. Ticket: 11 euros.

- By bus, when arriving from the Ciampino Airport:

Terravision bus: this is a direct bus service, timed to coincide with flights, which connects Ciampino with Stazione Termini in the centre of Rome. This airport service has always seemed fairly efficient, and is, after a taxi, the most efficient and comfortable way to get into Rome. The journey takes around 40 minutes, depending on traffic. If you book online you can avoid ticket queues, and at the time of writing there is an online special offer with tickets for €5 on way/ €10 return instead of €8 / €14. Ciampino - Termini bus: a newer and infrequent bus service, also run by Schiaffini, connects the airport with Termini. It's slightly cheaper than the competing Terravision bus, costing €5 each way (although you may be asked to pay an extra €1 per suitcase), but it only runs about seven times a day, and is less comfortable. Tickets are bought from the driver or staff by the bus, and the service uses the bus stop just outside the terminal building at Ciampino. At Termini the bus stops at the poorly-indicated Cotral stop for Fiuggi - at the time of writing this was alongside the main part of the railway station in Via Giolitti. For timetable details, visit the Schiaffini website (link:

SUGGESTED RESTAURANTS nearby the hotel

Cicilardone a Monte Caruso

Via Farini, 12 Rome +39 06483549

Description

The restaurant is named after Domenico Lucia, nicknamed Cicilardone, a real expert of Italian pasta. If you want to enjoy traditional home cooking, come here for the orecchiette alla barese, fusilli or tagliatelle with meat and tomato sauce, traditional baked pasta, pan-cooked spaghetti cacio with Sardinian sheep's cheese, and many other dishes accompanied by a good choice of wines

Il bocconcino

via ostilia 23

06 77079175

Description

Located in the historical centre, nearby the Colosseum, "Il Bocconcino" is a nice trattoria where you will have the chance to taste the real Roman Cuisine. Every day a different menù ranging from rigatoni pasta with calf's intestine, amatriciana sauce without tomato, ossobuco (veal shanks), picchiapo', spaghetti with cheese and pepper sauce, veal Saltimbocca alla Romana, on Thursday home made Gnocchi, on Saturday following the Roman tradition tripe. Superb home-made cakes.
